

K3|FASHION

EXTENDED PROFILE

OVERVIEW

K3|fashion is a cloud-based wholesale processing software designed for the needs of large companies in the fashion and apparel industry. It is embedded in Microsoft Dynamics 365 for Operations and covers the entire 'concept to consumer' process. The software can also come "made to measure", meaning the client can design the tools that meet the need of the organization.

K3|fashion comes with color, size and fit handling – meaning it can deal efficiently with multiple product dimensions. The user can set up an aggregated view of products, using their own parameters, and omnichannel planning features allow real-time visibility of data, giving insight where it is needed by the client.

There is the standard option of sales order management but also the more bespoke fashion requirement for season management. This allows for pre-season planning for collections at the same time as in-season planning with open-to-buy information.

The data in K3|fashion can be made visible by role across the organization and can also improve the collaboration between design, procurement, and manufacturer and the supplier to the retail store. Functionality includes product management, wholesale and retail options.
